Kosmo's Line Will Engage In Panama Trade.

CHILEAN COMPANY GETS IN

Abrogation of Pacific Mails Exclusive Traffic Contract Allows South American Shipping Competition from Frisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Simultaneously with the notice of the proposed abrogation of the Pacific mail contract for exclusive traffic with the Panama railroad at Panama, comes the news that the Kosmos Steamship Company is to enter the freight business between Panama and this city. This is the German line of steamers now engaged in business between Germany and South American and Central American ports and San Francisco. News has also been received here that the Chilean Navigation Company is to enter the Central American business via Panama.

This company has a line of steamers between Panama and South American ports. At one time it ran vessels as far north as this city, but finally withdrew from north of Panama because the Pacific mail's exclusive contract prevented it from handling any business for the Panama railroad north of Panama. Shipping circles here think that the Chilean company will eventually resume business at this port and also at the Pacific ports of Mexico, in addition to handling Central American shipments to and from Europe, by way of Panama.

Marine Notes.

The steamer Harrison arrived in last evening from Nehalem with a cargo of salmon for Elmore & Co. There still remain two cargoes at Nehalem.

The tank steamer Whittier arrived down from Portland yesterday and left out for San Francisco light.

The barkentine El Dorado started down from Portland yesterday and will probably go to sea today. She has a load of lumber.

The Zampa, a three-master, is in port for a load of lumber.

The revenue cutter Perry arrived in yesterday after a long search for the Melville Dollar which limped into Seattle a few minutes after the Perry was directed to set out in search of her. The navigation officer of the Perry says they stood out to sea about 75 miles and then six-gagged in and out between Tillamook rock and Vancouver island without, however, finding any trace of their chase. On account of the hard trip the Perry had the officers were somewhat disgusted when they learned how close a margin there was between the Melville's arrival and the Perry's departure.
